Bruges, medieval and mysterious, is a miracle. The city forgotten by the North sea at the end of the 15th century has not changed since the Dukes of Burgundy. Untouched in its walls since the time of the drapers, goldsmiths and spices merchants. Let yourself be carried away over the lost time throughout the canals and the twisted alleys. Here the jewels are commensurate as the jewel case. You could discover the city's history, from the "Grand Place" and its beautiful facades, the beguinage to the church Notre Dame ...

2. Boat ride on the canals

An half an hour historical ride on boat on the canals of Bruges, where you will discover the most important monuments in another way. Lots of examples, like the beguinage, the old Saint-Jean Hospital, the church Notre Dame, the belfry, the Poorters Loge ... And on the top of that : the medieval aspect of Bruges and the numerous step-gabled houses.
